

ENTIRE RUSSIAN FRONT FROM RIGA TO ROUMANIA BURSTS INTO A LURID FLAME OF VIOLENT BATTLE

THIS DOG'S BARK HELPS THE CAUSE OF RED CROSS

MRS. NELLA HADLEY and "HAM"

Imported Hambletonian, a big white English bull terrier, with white skin sash and embroidered Red Cross pockets attached, collected money for the Red Cross in the lobby of a big New York hotel and will continue his efforts for several days. Every time he barks he induces some one to help along the good cause. Imported Hambletonian comes of a long line of famous dogs, his sire being Williston Charwood, which has received sixty-one blue ribbons and was pronounced "best in show" on five occasions. His grandsire was Chandler Wild, also five times a champion. He was bred by the London breeder Tom Ganaway. The dog is the property of Mrs. V. L. Henderson of Toronto, a Red Cross nurse, who hopes soon to go to the base hospitals in northern France. With Mrs. Nella Hadley, also of that city, she is in charge of the Red Cross booth at the hotel. Photograph shows Mrs. Hadley and Imported Hambletonian.

FAYETTE TO SEND 81 MEN

Apportionment of Ohio's New Army Quota Announced. Cleveland to Send the Greatest Number.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., July 16.—With a quota of 8143 Cleveland will furnish more men by far than any other city in Ohio for the new national army to be drafted this week at Washington, according to official announcement made this morning by Hubert J. Turney, Judge Advocate General of Ohio, who has charge of the draft in the state. After giving credit to the various cities and counties for men who have enlisted in the National Guard and Regular Army, Colonel Turney officially announced that the draft of the various quotas would be as follows: Cincinnati, 2441; Toledo, 2454; Columbus, 909; Dayton, 784; Springfield, 641; Newark, 179; Akron, 2,661; Canton, 1433; Hamilton, 394; Lima, 198; Youngstown, 1,739; Lorain, 477.

Colonel Turney said that Zanesville will not have to furnish a single man for the draft army. Zanesville's regular quota was 269. However, 232 Zanesville men have enlisted in the service, 113 more than the draft would have called for.

Because of the number of men who have already enlisted, the following counties will not have to furnish any recruits for the new national army: Adams, Gallia, Jackson, Union and Warren.

FAYETTE'S QUOTA

Following are the quotas of some of the counties in the state: Clinton, 97; Guernsey 345; Fayette 81; Knox 24; Ross 96; Pickaway 28; Pike 96.

FIFTH WEEK

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, July 16.—The Senate today entered upon its fifth and final week of considerations of the Administration food control bill while the leaders conferred in a further effort to perfect a measure that would meet the wishes of President Wilson and that would insure its passage. The Senate will vote on the bill Saturday, and then the measure will be rushed to conference where an early agreement is looked for.

It is believed that in the end legislation will be worked out limiting government control but substituting regulatory powers for food and fuel.

Among amendments to the bill approved today was a draft by Senator Hollis, of a new section creating a board of food administration. The board would be composed of three members appointed by the President, and subject to Senate confirmation. Herbert C. Hoover is mentioned as chairman.

GUARDSMEN GATHER IN SMOOTHLY

No Hitch in Ohio Mobilization Work

By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., July 16.—Adjutant General Geo. H. Wood today notified Major General Mowry, of the Central Department of the Army, that 20,196 Ohio National Guard troops answered the call to the colors yesterday.

This figure does not include between 4,200 and 4,500 members of the Third and Sixth Regiments who already are in federal service "somewhere in Ohio."

By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., July 16.—Mobilization of Ohio National Guard troops yesterday went through without a hitch. Adjutant General Geo. A. Wood said no complaints or report of difficulties came to his office, adding that the assembling of 22,000 men was accomplished "as smoothly as we could have hoped."

Federal inspection is to start immediately under the general direction of Colonel Julius A. Penn, who will be assisted by a number of officers. Although he expected to report here today, no word had come from the Regular Army officer up to early afternoon.

On the northern front, near Riga, German reinforcements are being rushed up by sea transports. On the Lemberg front the Germans are being shifted back and forth by means of automobiles in an attempt to prevent further advances of the Russians.

On the Southern front in the Carpathians the Austrians are said to be in full flight.

DNIESTER ADVANCE BY RUSSIAN ARMIES MEANS BIG GAINS

French Repulse the Strong German Counter Attack at St. Quentin.

Russian Captures in Officers, Men and Guns, Tremendous.

Raiding Operations, Artillery and Aeroplane Activities on British Front.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Although the movement of the Russian infantry engaged in the big general offensive in eastern Galicia is being hampered by bad weather, the Russians apparently have been able to keep up their dashing tactics. This is indicated by reports from Petrograd that Dolina has been occupied by Russian forces.

If this announcement proves correct it means an advance of more than 30 miles since the opening of the drive south of the Dniester a week ago. The official reports have placed them nearly two thirds of this distance from the starting point as Kalusz taken by the Russians last week is some 20 miles from Stanislaw which virtually was their place of departure.

The hard fighting that has marked the last few days along the French front in northern France, continues. Last night the Germans made desperate attempts to regain the observation post they lost when the French on Saturday night took a strongly fortified position in the vicinity of Mont Haut in the Champagne.

The French in local operations made some progress in the Alsace front, and repulsed several strong attacks near St. Quentin.

On the British front only raiding operations and artillery and airplane activities are reported.

General Brusiloff's captures in the first two weeks of his offensive in Galicia are officially announced as 37,000 officers and men, 93 guns, 403 machine guns and great quantities of war materials.

In yesterday's fighting more than 900 prisoners were taken.

WASHINGTON HEARS HURLEY WILL BE SEC'Y OF COMMERCE

EDWARD N. HURLEY

It was reported in Washington that Edward N. Hurley, formerly a member of the federal trade commission and at present a representative of the department of commerce on the advisory board of the experts council, would succeed William C. Redfield in the cabinet as secretary of commerce. The report was denied later, but it is believed in some quarters.

Mr. Redfield, it was asserted, would become associated with a large business firm and would have withdrawn before if the war had not intervened and made it advisable in the interests of the government for him to remain in office.

COMPANY M IS NOW A PART OF THE U. S. REGULAR ARMY

Virtually Every Man in Line at Appointed Hour and Five New Recruits Are Added—Drilling on Streets Attracts Attention. Feeding at Y. M. C. A. Meets With Approval.

Company M, Ohio National Guard, has ceased to exist, and in its place Company M, Fourth Regiment, Ohio Infantry, United States Army, has stepped forth, with a splendid class of men and a company in which the community may well take just pride.

When the soldiers assembled at the Army Sunday morning, they were drawn up in three long lines and Captain O. E. Hardway, in a brief address to them, announced that the company was now a part of the regular army, becoming so automatically when they mobilized at the call of the President.

Virtually all of the company reported at the appointed hour, and by nine o'clock Sunday morning more than 50 men were in line; while most of the remainder reported by noon—hour set for complete mobilization. Those who could not be present had arranged with Captain Hardway, and showed up a few hours later.

Until the company receives orders to entrain for a southern training camp the men will remain mobilized at the Army, with the privilege of going to their homes, if they reside in the city, for meals or sleeping. The other troops will remain at the Army to sleep and will eat at the Y. M. C. A., where facilities have been arranged for properly feeding them.

The task of feeding the 131 men is no easy one, and keeps Mess Sergeant Buckley busy preparing menus and seeing that they are properly carried out.

Cooks, Bays, McFarland and Gordon are kept busy at their task of preparing the food and looking after the culinary equipment. The Y. M. C. A. has turned over the dishes, cooking apparatus, dining room and equipment to the soldiers, and they fully appreciate the arrangement and are pleased with the food served.

Sunday was an easy day for the men, as they were given little drilling, but Monday morning they were put to work and for three or four hours were drilled on the streets of the city, attracting a great deal of attention.

With nearly every man in line, outside of the corps of clerks at the Army and cooks at the Y. M. C. A., the company presented a splendid appearance at drill, and the rookies are learning rapidly so that it was not easy to pick out the new men at first glance.

Many New Recruits.
The inspiring sight of the large number of men in uniform was too much for the patriotism of five young men, Sunday, and they enlisted.

These men are: Lester Woodruff and George Woodruff, brothers, residing on Route 2, Washington; Lee Anders, of Concord township; Jesse Riley, of Jefferson township; and Geo. Ridenout, of Stout, Ohio. It is believed all of these men will pass the physical examination, in which case the number of men still wanted for the company will be 17.

Within the next few days it is expected that the new recruits will bring the total enrollment of Company M up to the full war strength of 150 men and three officers.

The offices at the Army present a busy scene, where a large amount of clerical work is under way, made necessary by the transfer of the guards into the regular army—the addition of the new recruits, and the thousand and one other things which always require clerical attention about headquarters.

GREENFIELD TROOPS CAMPING IN PARK

The Greenfield company of soldiers, under Captain Don. Caldwell, formerly Second Lieutenant of Company M, of this city, is now located in the Chautauqua park at Greenfield, where regular camp life is being lived, and where they are preparing their own food.

The Greenfield company is made up of a fine class of fellows, and Sunday little groups of the men were scattered about the streets of that city, attracting much attention.

LOCAL PEOPLE SEE CANTONMENT CAMP

Many Washington citizens peeped at Chillicothe, Sunday to get a notion at the big cantonment camp at that place, and were amazed at the magnitude of the undertaking and the busy scene which appeared before them from the outer edge of the great camp site.

Hundreds of men and scores of teams were busy, and at the present time the work of grading the roadways or streets, is under way.

Bodies of men were busy, Sunday, unloading dozens of cars of lumber and other material, and the camp presented a scene of bee-hive industry.

Many from this city and county are employed on the camp.

ATHLETICS HUMBLING COLONELS

Weird Game at Local Park Sunday Afternoon Full of Hits, Errors and Amusement for Fair-sized Crowd.

Locals Win in Easy Style From Visitors.

A good sized crowd journeyed to the Sunnyside Park Sunday afternoon and saw the Athletics literally overwhelm, smother, crush, tramp on and walk over the Colonels of Dayton Kentucky.

The game was a weird affair as full of errors, both of commission and omission as a dog is of fleas. The home boys won because they only made 11 errors while the visitors collected only 6 of them.

The Athletics scored one in the first, Durkin first up went out—3rd to first. Doyle singled. Schuyler doubled scoring Doyle. Adams went out at first on an assist by the pitcher—Schuyler taking third. Noon perched at first assist from second base.

The Colonels were blanked in their half in the second our boys garnered seven large tallies. Lewis first up was safe on a tumble by Uhlman. Jones hit for a single, Lewis taking second, Matthews doubled scoring both Lewis and Jones. Black flew out to center. Durkin doubled scoring Matthews—Doyle singled. Durkin going to third. Schuyler was binged by a pitched ball taking second on a wild heave on which Doyle scored. Adams a passed, scoring Durkin; Noon drew a single. Lewis second time up—singled scoring Schuyler and Adams. Jones fanned. Matthews out at first on assist by pitcher—seven runs—some wild pastime.

The visitors were blanked in the second and third.

In the last of the third Black first up was spared by a wild heave to first by the short stop. Durkin singled Black taking second where, ground asleep his life was taken a moment later by a quick heave by the pitcher. Durkin started to steal second, the visiting catcher and center field both threw the ball away trying to catch him Durkin scoring.

Doyle flew out to the catcher. Schuyler grounder to second and the guardian of the station promptly heaved the ball away. Later Schuyler went to third on a wild peg by the catcher. Adams flew out to right.

In the fifth the Colonels secured a brace of runs by two clean hits and three errors by the locals.

In the sixth the visitors gathered two by clean hitting including a three bagger and a home run.

In the seventh Washington scored four.

Matthews fanned. Black singled Durkin base on balls. Doyle tripled scoring Black and Durkin. Schuyler "home runned" over the right field fence. Adams singled. Stole second, error by short stop. Noon hit to second for a double unassisted.

The game was one of the weird contests that furnish the unusual—the spice—to the record of a good team.

VOLUNTEER WORKERS IN NEW YORK CITY CANNERY

WOMEN HELP IN FOOD CONSERVATION IN MUNICIPAL CANNERY

Constructive work of food conservation has been started in the New York city cannery and dehydrating plant on the East river front underneath the Williamsburg bridge. The work has been started by a subcommittee of the committee on food of the mayor's committee of women on national defense. The plan is to have volunteer women workers go to piers when cargoes of fruit and vegetables are due. They will sort out and save that part of the shipment which is not good enough to be sold in the natural state, but which may be canned. Other volunteers will work at the cannery. The upper picture shows a group of the volunteer women workers filling jars. Every volunteer worker who aids either at a pier or at the cannery station gets a card punched for every hour worked. These cards will be redeemable next winter in canned foods. Many of the volunteers who will not need the food themselves plan to give their cards to war relief organizations.

In the lower picture, left to right are Miss Mabel Kittredge, chairman of the committee on food of the mayor's committee of women on national defense. MERIT SYSTEM MAY SOON BE ADOPTED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., July 16.—A merit system for state employees, particularly inspectors, investigators and men and women who travel for various departments may be adopted following creation of a system of efficiency reports in the state fire marshal's office.

Monthly statements in detail of every activity of such employees, with statements of expense accounts are to be made in the fire marshal's department and the system has met with so much approval from department heads that State Auditor Donahy has recommended it for all of them.

At present detail reports are made only in each individual investigation or bit of work and department heads know only in a general way what employees are accomplishing without going through bulky files. Reduction of expenses and a means of finding the most efficient as well as the most inefficient employees for promotion or dismissal are among purposes of the proposed new system.

Our Boys

Realization that the nation is engaged in war was brought home to us, Sunday.

The volunteer men in every branch of the service were mobilized Sunday noon. At midday Sunday all the boys who had volunteered in the nation's service had left home and answered present at the place of mobilization. Every train traversing Ohio carried the home boys away on the first lap of the journey to the front and Sunday evening, as the July sun slipped down behind the western line where earth and sky meet, the stars shown down on hundreds of camps where thousands of America's boys had congregated to learn the ways of war and begin their part in the grim struggle which freedom is waging throughout the world against tyranny.

The ambulance corps, the engineers corps, the signal corps, the aviation corps, the national guard, which on Sunday ceased to exist, as such and became a part of the federal service, and all the scores of branches into which the great fighting force of the nation is now divided, were all on the way to the front.

Sunday night hundreds of thousands of homes contained the vacant chair, hundreds of thousands of hearts were sad—that which before had been a probability of the future had become at last, a reality and the serious work was begun.

This week or next other hundreds of thousands of the home boys will be designed by the government for service and another mobilization begun.

The homes of the nation now face the future with its promise of victory—some of the boys have gone, others are going soon and we now look forward not to the parting but to the return which will reunite the family circle.

The mothers and the fathers of the land have met the supreme test of patriotism bravely and cheerfully. The boys have responded to the call of the nation.

No force which tyranny and cruelty can muster will be able to conquer the armies that go forth actuated by the spirit with which the American forces enter the war.

Senator Pomerene Promises Action

Senator Pomerene promises to introduce in the senate a resolution for a congressional inquiry into coal prices unless the Federal Trades Commission determines on a price for coal less than the three dollars a ton at the mines recently agreed upon at a conference of coal operators and the federal officials.

We agree with Senator Pomerene—he is on the right track. The people hope he will stay right on that track too until some result is accomplished. We hope too that when Senator Pomerene presents his resolution it will differ from the one now promised in that it will have no saving clause, "unless a lower price is agreed upon" and that it will provide for government control and distribution of all the coal supply of the nation instead of for a congressional inquiry.

According to Senator Pomerene (and he is not in the habit of making wild statements) "these coal barons have deliberately misrepresented conditions to the public. They are waxing fat." He also asserted that certain operators were making as high as 800 per cent profit.

In view of the call to the colors, the appeals to patriotism that have gone out to every body in the land, if what Senator Pomerene says is true, haven't the coal operators become alien enemies and isn't it time to end appeals to their loyalty and seize the property—which the people need so badly.

The coal barons have been given their opportunity to serve their country—they have refused to rise to it—they trifle with the authorities and seek to rob the people.

The I. W. W. Disturbers

The devilish disturbances by the I. W. W.—Industrial Workers of the World—have become so widespread, as to warrant the belief that an organized attempt, financed and directed by enemies of the nation; with a view to destroying the resources of the country, crippling its industries and bringing on internal dissensions, is being made.

The treatment accorded the eleven hundred I. W. W. leaders in Bisbee and Douglas Arizona, when enraged citizens arose and rounded up the anarchists, herded them into cattle cars and railroaded them to a desert stockade near Hermanas New Mexico was fine—as far as it went. It was about as far as the indignant civilian population could go without being guilty of rioting.

State and federal authorities should take up the work now where the citizens have left off and swing a "big stick" on the craniums of these hirelings of a foreign foe.

This is no time to encourage traitors of the I. W. W. type by being sentimental in dealing out punishment.

Internment with alien enemies during the remainder of war is about the mildest form of punishment which could be expected. Really if the I. W. W. leaders received justice they would be taken out in front of a stone wall and shot as traitors. That's what any other nation would do.

Poetry For Today

HOMEWARD BOUND.

Home for my heart still calls me;
Home through the danger zone;
Home, whatever befalls me,
I will sail again to my own.

Wolves of the sea are hiding
Closely along the way,
Under the water biding
Their moments to rend and slay.

Flower of the German culture,
Boast of the Kaiser's marine,
Choose for your emblem the culture
Cowardly, cruel, obscene.

Forth from the sheltered haven
Our peaceful ships glide slow,
Noiseless in flight as a raven,
Gray as a hooded crow.

She doubles and turns in her bearing,
Like a twisting plover she goes;
The way of her westward faring
Only her captain knows.

In a lonely bay concealing
She lingers for days and slips
At dusk from her covert, stealing
Through channels feared by the ships.

Brave are the men and steady
Who guide her over the deep,
British marines ready
To face the sea wolf's leap.

Lord of the winds and waters,
Bring our ship to her mark,
Safe from this game of hide-and-seek
With murderers in the dark.
—Henry Van Dyke.

WILL BUILD BIG NITRATE PLANT SOON

Secretary Baker Announces That Site Is Not Yet Chosen.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, July 16.—Secretary Baker announced today that plants for the production of nitrate from atmospheric nitrogen would be constructed immediately at a cost of about $4,000,000 and that water power would not be used. Sites have not been selected.

Further discussion of localities desiring to be considered as possible sites is closed temporarily, the announcement says, while the site committee of cabinet officials is making further study.

It has been assumed ever since the great nitrate project was proposed, that a vast supply of water power would be needed. Consequently various sites with water power have been supposed to be the only points to get consideration. Congress appropriated $20,000,000 for the project.

Apparently the entire expenditure contemplated by the war department is one fifth of that sum appropriated.

OPERATOR ARRESTED FOR CRIME

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Johnstown, Pa., July 16.—Geo. K. Tompkins, Jr., a Philadelphia coal operator, arrested in connection with the mysterious death of Edward Humphries, his wife and son yesterday, on a country road near here, was formally charged with murder today and was locked up in the Cambria county jail.

The charge was made by a county detective and Tompkins immediately declared his innocence. Tompkins, on his way to jail, declared he had forgotten a few details in a statement he made yesterday, and was given opportunity to make another statement, the purport of which the authorities refused to disclose.

POSSES IN SEARCH

The three members of the Humphries family were held up and shot by three masked highwaymen, according to the story told by Tompkins.

Accepting his explanation of the triple murder poses scoured the country but gave up the search for the alleged bandits, when it was announced that statements made by Tompkins were at variance with that of witnesses at the inquest.

A team belonging to David Willams, a farmer, ran away on Paint street, at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon. The horses were hitched to a wagon loaded with coal at the Fayette Grain Company, and became frightened when a passing machine struck the wagon tongue.

They ran to the Union Station where they were stopped before any damage was done.

BAND TRIP CALLED OFF

The trip to have been made by the Washington Band to Buckeye Lake Sunday, was called off on account of the poor condition of the roads in the vicinity of the summer resort, following the heavy rains of Saturday.

Mr. Charles B. Johnson was not notified of conditions until 9:30 Saturday evening and made haste to notify every one he could reach by phone of the change.

BOYS LEAVE FOR MOBILIZATION CAMPS SUNDAY

Twelve Young Volunteers Leave on 10:47 B. & O. for Columbus. Large Crowd of Relatives and Friends See Them Off.

Sunday morning the stream of Fayette's finest young men who, with equally patriotic representatives of neighboring counties and states, which make up this great country of ours, are destined for many months, perhaps, and even years to fill the trenches of Europe that are gradually pushing the stronghold of autocracy from the face of the earth, started upon its great mission.

While nearly one hundred and fifty young men left the pursuits of civil life to don the khaki and shoulder the musket, only twelve boys left the county for their mobilization camps.

Scenes that are only familiar to the older residents who marched away to the war of the rebellion, will be re-enacted daily now that the great stream of brave manhood has started.

More than one hundred of the relatives and friends of the twelve boys who left for distant camps gathered at the Union Station at 10:47 Sunday morning and bade the boys God speed.

One not knowing that a condition of war really existed might have thought that the boys were only departing on a short camping trip, so well was their sorrow at leaving disguised by smiling faces. And the friends of the boys bravely did their part in concealing any traces of grief. When the train finally left, a pall of sadness settled down upon the assemblage, which is destined to grow gradually as more of our sons, brothers and sweethearts answer the call of their country.

The twelve boys who boarded the train yesterday morning were: M. W. Claggen, Lawrence Fleisher, Donald Moore, Albert Barney, Harold Counts, Ronald Dick, Orland Hays, Donald Andrews, Robert Jefferson, Hubert, Murray, Will Minter, and Fred Pine. Murray, Pine and Minter were transferred immediately after arriving in Columbus, to the Third Ohio Ambulance Corps of Cincinnati, and passed through this city enroute to the Cincinnati in the afternoon.

Major Rell G. Allen and First Lieutenant Billie E. Paul also left on the 10:47 to report at officers headquarters in Columbus.

The other nine boys who left are all in the 2nd Ohio Ambulance Corps and are in camp with their company on the State Fair Grounds in Columbus.

Colonel Green and Bride On Honeymoon Yacht Trip

COL. and MRS. E. H. R. GREEN and THEIR HONEYMOON YACHT UNITED STATES

Colonel Edward Howland Robinson Green and his bride, formerly Miss Mable E. Harlow of Highland Park, Ill., have gone to the Caribbean for their honeymoon on the yacht United States, the "floating palace" belonging to the son of the late Mrs. Hetty Green. It is reported on good authority that the refitting of the United States cost Colonel Green $1,000,000. She has forty-eight state-rooms, one for each state in the Union. Before leaving on his honeymoon Colonel Green said:

"I am not marrying any society bud, but a truly sensible woman. I do not know who's going to be boss. All I know is that I'm going to try to be."

In former interviews he expressed the following views on matrimony: "The problem of marriage does not lie as heavily on the mind of the poor man as it does on a rich one. The poor man has at least the comforting thought that he is the loved head of the household and not the treasury vault."

"There is not a rich man in America who has not had dozens of chances to marry into families of birth and breeding but he must seek the inner recesses of the woman's soul and find if her affections ring true."

"I want the right sort of girl or woman. Age doesn't matter if the brain and heart are right."

"I like a bashful girl."

"Every man seeking a wife should look for the motherly type. You will know her by the pleasure she finds in doing little acts of kindness for others. She can't hide her goodness."

"I'm going to marry a woman—not a clothes horse."

TRIO TAKEN TO THE WORKHOUSE

A trio of offenders, who have faced Judge Allen during the past few days were escorted to the Xenia workhouse Monday morning, in custody of Sheriff Jones.

One of the men was Al McGinnis, colored, who drew $200 and three months for non-support, and went over on the three months end of the fine.

Abe Smith, colored, of Jeffersonville, arrested upon an affidavit charging him with bootlegging, drew $500 and the costs because of his offense, with an additional six months, and will work out the six months. The $500 was suspended over him to insure his walking in the straight and narrow way when he gets out.

Raymond Johnson, sentenced for breaking into John Durant's home a week ago last Sunday, was the party of the third part.

LEAGUE CONVINCED "SUBS" WEAKER

(By American Press)

Washington, July 16.—There is reason to believe that the German torpedo supply is weakening, says a statement issued at the navy league headquarters. The increasing frequency with which press dispatches report merchant ships as successfully dodging German torpedoes, says the statement, suggests to the technically trained mind that the German torpedo is deteriorating in speed and hence in accuracy of fire at long range.

At the outset, the statement continues, the Germans were extremely careful to conserve their torpedoes. Merchant ships were sunk by gunfire wherever possible. But arming of merchant ships and the constant improvement in the allies' system of defense against submarine attack has driven the submarines under water and they are now forced to use torpedoes in almost every attack. The increase in the number of submarines has further added to the strain upon the German stock of torpedoes. The Germans are pressing their submarine campaign with all possible vigor and the number of attacks on merchant ships appears to be increasing. Yet this increased fury with which the U-boat warfare is being waged has failed to increase the number of merchant ships sunk. The explanation of this offered by certain naval experts is that the Germans are being so pressed for time in the construction of torpedoes that they can no longer maintain their speed at their accuracy of fire.

HIGH COMPLIMENT FOR FRED C. KELLY

In "New York Day by Day," O. O. McIntyre tells this little story of Fred C. Kelly, former Greene county boy who is now classed with the big magazine writers of the nation.

An interesting correspondence has been raging between Fred C. Kelly, the writer, and the proprietor of one of the most exclusive haberdasheries on Fifth avenue. The haberdashery sells neckties for as low as $6 apiece, and has pajamas ranging from $30 apiece up to $90, and as for handkerchiefs one may get a dozen there for the ridiculous price of $36 a dozen.

In some mysterious manner they got hold of Kelly's New York address and sent him a circular, Kelly sat up and took notice. He had never been so highly complimented before. He wrote them a letter explaining that his Paris shirt commissionaire was not able to get the right kind of shirts, and he was interested in their $28 brand.

He clipped the picture of an 85-cent shirt from an advertisement and pasted it on the letter, saying that it was the kind he always wore, and would like to duplicate them. The haberdashery replied that they hadn't any exactly like it, but could secure the material for $32 apiece.

Kelly replied that his valet had made a mistake in his shirt invoice. He had a supply of this kind sufficient for his needs. "What I need just now," he wrote, "is not the $32 shirts for morning and lounging wear, but something a bit classier for afternoon teas and shopping. Something for about $60 apiece. Also I am interested in your $36 a dozen handkerchiefs. While they are not exactly what I want myself should like to have the price quoted on a few gross for my servants."

When a representative of the haberdashery learned, after an investigation, that Kelly never paid more than $1.75 for a shirt in his life, and that his neckties cost anywhere from 25 cents to 50 cents, he came to one conclusion—that Kelly was not a gentleman.

NEW CHANCELLOR'S POLICY A SECRET

(By American Press)

Copenhagen, July 16.—Germany's new chancellor, Dr. George Michaelis, a bureaucrat, has as yet given no indication of his policy regarding reform and peace. Neither the conservatives nor the liberals have ventured to call him their own.

The chancellor's first step was to receive representatives of the two divergent groups in the reichstag and permit them to explain their respective standpoints, the chancellor playing the role of listener to the conversations conducted by the vice chancellor, Dr. Karl Helfferich, and the reichstag representatives.

The German papers unite in characterization of his energy and fair-mindedness, but are most reserved in their predictions of his probable policy. The papers aligned for the so-called German peace are perhaps a shade more enthusiastic about the political possibilities under the new regime than the radical and Socialist organs.

The Cologne Volks Zeitung, the Catholic organ of pan-German sympathies, says Dr. Michaelis undoubtedly stands nearer the right than the left parties. The line of the comment evidently emanating from Wilhelmstrasse is that the new chancellor regards as his mission the restoration of the internal harmony of the nation whatever policy may be adopted. No matter what else may result the change will undoubtedly mean the disappearance of the Von Bethmann-Hollweg peace program.

The appointment of Dr. Michaelis undoubtedly means a new deal of the cards. Berlin papers which were published before the appointment of Dr. Michaelis was known, threw further light on the circumstance of Von Bethmann-Hollweg's retirement. They show that the emperor was confronted by the necessity of dropping the imperial chancellor or virtually the entire Prussian cabinet, the members of which, including the war minister, General Von Stein, a soldier, not a politician, submitted their resignations, declaring that they could not remain if Von Bethmann-Hollweg was retained.

The Bavarian premier, Count Von Hertling, who favored moderate peace proposals, but refused flatly to accept the idea of a parliamentary ministry which would diminish Bavaria's special influence on the government, seems to have thrown himself into the struggle against Von Bethmann at the last minute. The Bavarian Center members of the reichstag started an anti-Von Bethmann revolt within the party, and the crown prince made valid his long-standing objections to the imperial chancellor.

REQUISITIONS SHIPPING

(By American Press)

Washington, July 16.—Major General Goethals, manager of the fleet corporation, put under way the government's merchant ship building program by requisitioning 1,500,000 tons of shipping under construction in American ship plants. At the same time he offered contracts for construction of two government owned ship yards to turn out large numbers of fabricated steel ships. General Goethals has made no plans for requisitioning wooden ships under construction, but he intends to build a large number of wooden ships of a design submitted by Theodore Ferris. The shipping board, it is understood, wants him to build also a large number of the Hough design, which General Goethals has disapproved.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENT UNUSUAL OPERATION

By the use of an electric magnet, after other methods had failed, Dr. L. P. Howell succeeded in removing a sliver of an iron wedge from the foot of G. N. Lamb, who suffered the injury while at work on the Chillicothe pike paving job.

Mr. Lamb was at work on concrete forms, and was in the act of driving an iron wedge with a steel sledge, when a sliver broke from the wedge and after penetrating the thick leather of his shoe top, entered his right foot on the inside just below the ankle.

The probe revealed the sliver of iron or steel located against the bone and behind one of the large ligaments, so that it was a difficult matter to remove the object.

However, the electro-magnet, inserted in the wound, picked up the piece of metal and held it firmly until removed from the wound and released. The piece of steel was nearly one-half inch long and one-quarter inch in width.

HOOVER ON SUPPLY

(By American Press)

Washington, July 16.—Supplies of corn in Ohio and the other "corn states" of the middle west have reached the lowest point ever known, according to an announcement by Herbert C. Hoover's food administration bureau. The announcement further says:

"The five corn producing states of Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Illinois and Nebraska, had on hand June 1, 1917, but 257,000,000 bushels, as compared with an average of 567,000,000 bushels for the nine preceding years, or a decrease in the reserve for these five states of 24 per cent. This is the smallest reserve by 15,000,000 bushels during that period. Iowa's corn reserve for 1917 has decreased 15 per cent for the nine year average. Illinois' reserve shows a decrease of 37 per cent, and is the smallest reserve in the entire ten years by 11,000,000 bushels. Ohio's reserve is a decrease of 45 per cent from the nine year average and is 29 per cent less than the previous low record for that period."

TO COMPLY WITH PRESIDENT'S WISH

(By American Press)

Washington, July 16.—The senate today resumed consideration of the administration food control bill. The measure will be disposed of Saturday, under the senate's agreement for a final vote on that date.

With leaders co-operating to shape the pending measure to meet President Wilson's desires, the bill will be discussed after Wednesday under a five-minute limit of debate. Precipitous agreement at a conference next week is expected so that the legislation will be on the statute books before Aug. 1.

This week the administration expects to submit its measure for insuring soldiers and sailors. The house appropriations committee has begun work on a new $3,000,000,000 war budget. Awaiting senate action are the $640,000,000 aviation measure, the $1,670,000,000 war tax bill, the trading with the enemy measure and many others of minor importance already passed by the house.

Senate leaders are confident that bipartisan conferences and the president's support for the original plan of food legislation will develop an amended measure limiting government control but with substantial regulatory powers to food, feed and fuels. It is planned to settle the prohibition differences in conference between senate and house with the probability of a compromise eliminating or modifying Senator Smoot's amendment proposing federal purchase of distilled beverages in bond.

The principal differences now center about proposals in Senator Gore's substitute, which administration leaders are preparing to oppose, for legislation restricting federal authority and providing for a food board of several members instead of a single administrator. The question of government control over steel, iron, cotton and other products may also develop a spirited contest.

After the food bill the senate will take up the rivers and harbors appropriation measure under the present plan, but Senator Martin, the Democratic leader, said there might be a shift to expedite the $640,000,000 aviation bill.

GRADS, ASSEMBLE AT STATE CAPITAL FOR AERIAL DUTY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., July 16.—Approximately 250 college graduates, most of them from the East, are now enlisted and assigned to the United States army aviation school on the campus at Ohio State University. The Ohio aviation school is said to be the largest being conducted by the army.

The theoretical course here extends over a period of eight weeks, during which time the students are expected to master wireless telegraphy and the gas engine.

The flying course at Dayton will consist of three months work. Daily trips will be made by the students with expert instructors, one of whom will be assigned to each six students.

Although no official information has been given out, it is the expectation of the student-aviators that they will be rushed to the French front as soon as they become master pilots. Instructors here say that only between 15 and 25 per cent of the students will qualify as first class pilots, although many of them may become observers. They say that many of the men can pass the theoretical work but that they fall down on the actual flying tests.

WILL INOCULATE OHIO GUARDSMEN

(By American Press)

Columbus, July 16.—Colonel Julius A. Penn of the United States army has been designated chief mustering officer for the Ohio national guard, according to a telegram received by Assistant Adjutant General J. E. Gimpert, Jr., from General T. H. Barry of the central department.

Colonel Penn is expected to be in Columbus this evening, when he will take the first steps toward the mustering of some 3,000 troops mobilized here. He then will tour the state to muster in at other "home stations."

The proceedings will consist of putting the men already enlisted through another physical examination, of taking records of each enlisted man, and of inoculating each with the anti-phosphorus and smallpox serum. This is expected to take ten days at least. A number of physicians will be called on to assist in examining and treating the guardsmen.

guard and the divisional ammunition and supply trains and motor scouts' organization, recruited throughout the state mobilized at the fair grounds for fifteen days' preliminary training before they entrain for the Ohio concentration camp at Montgomery, Ala. Guard officers who had been worried about getting equipment and supplies for the new recruits, breathed easier upon receipt of a telegram from the central department, Chicago, saying everything will be rushed to "home stations" as soon as the strength of units is reported. This is said to include equipment of every variety, ordnance, uniforms, bedding, tentage and the like. More than half the guard now is without equipment.

Names of American military heroes of past wars, including several Confederate leaders, have been given by the war department to the thirty-two cantonnements in which the national army and the national guard will be mobilized for training. In announcing the designations, the department revealed that the subject had been given consideration by a board of officers headed by Brigadier General Kuhn, chief of the war college division, and that selections were governed by a carefully prepared policy. In each case the name selected is that of a man from the section represented by the troops concerned, but not unpopular in the vicinity of the camp. Short names were chosen for convenience, names like Washington and Lincoln were omitted because of the temporary nature of the camps, and other names were avoided because they are duplicated by prominent men now living.

The cantonnement at Callicoth, for troops from Ohio and West Virginia, will be called "Camp Sherman," after General W. T. Sherman. The camp at Montgomery, Ala., where the Ohio national guard will train, will be known as Camp Sheridan, after General Phil Sheridan, distinguished for his campaign in the Shenandoah valley.

Washington July 16.—The war department bill appropriating $640,000, 000 for construction of 22,000 air planes was passed by the house with out a roll call. It was amended only in minor details. Amendments adopted included one by Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin, limiting the broad authorities granted the executive for the present war emergency, and one by Representative Fitzgerald, New York, providing that enlisted men drafted for the aviation corps shall be within the same ages—21 to 30 inclusive—as apply in the general conscription law.

The $640,000,000 appropriated is not only for personnel and aircraft, but for engines, equipment, guns, armament, ammunition, spare parts, barracks and buildings, operation of aviation stations, experiments, creation, acquisition and development of air craft plants and factories, expense of agents for observation and investigation abroad, and other necessary work.

NEW FEATURES FOR OHIO STATE FAIR WILL BE UP TO DATE

Columbus, O., July 16.—It is the plan of the State Board of Agriculture to make the 1917 State Fair at Columbus an exposition of preparedness and conservation.

One day of the fair week may be designated as "Conservation Day," with one or perhaps several noted speakers. While efforts to get Herbert C. Hoover, the food administration head, to be a guest have borne no fruit, there is possibility that Ex-President Taft or some other man known nationwide may have a part in the observance.

"We look to the state fair as an exposition of preparedness and conservation regardless of whether there is war but with our country engaged with the other nations of the world in the great European struggle, there is no question but that the fair this year will be more than ever an 'object lesson,' especially for Ohio farmers and gardeners," said N. E. Shaw, secretary of the state board.

Crop conditions in Ohio, save perhaps in the instance of fruit, give promise of one of the greatest agricultural years in the history of the state. Both corn and wheat will produce in quantity and quality. These and other crops will make possible an agricultural show probably not equalled before in Ohio.

Premium lists were issued several days ago and the big demand for them so early leads officials of the fair to the belief that the Columbus show, despite the war, will be the biggest this year of any in its history.

Preparations were started immediately after the gates were closed last fall. An enormous big pavilion will be completed in time and there will be other improvements. Proposals to buy a large tract of land for automobile parking were not carried out but land in the vicinity of the fair ground will be leased and rented to take care of the thousands of cars that come from all parts of the state. Contracts were awarded this week for painting all buildings and the grandstand. Other contracts have been closed for free entertainment features, among which will be daily flights by Ruth Law, celebrated aviatrix.

Carrying out the preparedness and patriotic idea that is to be uppermost the enormous flower bed, banked so that it faces the grandstand, has been set to flowers that will show the national colors during fair week. At either end will be an American flag and extending across the face of the bed for nearly 200 feet will be the words in colors: "Your Flag, My Flag."

Apparently a pacifist is willing to fight for anything but the cause of freedom.—Chicago Daily News.

MARINE INSURANCE DENIED TO GERMAN OWNED COMPANIES

(By American Press)

Washington, July 16.—President Wilson issued a proclamation prohibiting German insurance companies from doing further business in marine or war risks insurance in the United States and forbidding American insurance companies from reinsuring with them. Payment on existing contracts is suspended during the war, except in case of vessels now at sea. The president's proclamation contains the first official acknowledgment that valuable information may be getting to Germany through German insurance companies. "The nature of marine and war risk insurance is such," it says, "that those conducting it must of necessity be in touch with the movements of ships and cargoes, and it has been considered by the government of great importance that this information should not be obtained by alien enemies."
